Invitation

In the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic, the global economy is expected to undergo unprecedented shocks and structural changes, along with a severe impact on socioeconomic activities for the foreseeable future. Aside from the serious contraction of economic growth worldwide, the ongoing deglobalization and digitization trends are set to accelerate in the coming years, altering the way in which international business and finance operate.

Against this backdrop, the Conference is intended to discuss: (i) the impact of the COVID-19 on global economy and geopolitical dynamics, (ii) challenges and opportunities for the financial services industry, (iii) implications for asset management in the period of super-low interest rate and hyper uncertainty, (iv) emerging issues for public pension funds and sovereign wealth funds facing increasing calls for improving investment performance and promoting social responsibility, and, (v) government policies and business strategies in coping with the COVID-19 new normal.

The Conference is set for June 25th–26th, 2020, with the welcoming reception in the evening of Thursday 25th and the main conference event on Friday 26th. As the attached program shows, key speakers for the Conference include global leaders and senior government officials in Korea. International experts from academia, journalism, international organizations and investment business enterprises are also scheduled to join the Conference as speakers(via online/video) or panelists.

I hope you will be able to join us at the Conference.

Thank you.

June 2020
